A NEW REVIEW
OF Buttidge (R.)
LONDON. K
BEING

An Exact Survey, lately taken, of every Street, Lane, Court, Ally, Square, Close, Green, Wharf, Row, Garden, Field, and all Places, by what Name soever call'd, within the Cities, Liberties, or Suburbs of London, Westminster, and the Borough of Southwark; so that Letters from the General and Penny-Post Offices cannot miscarry for the future, by shewing in what Part, or Division, Places bearing the same Name are situated; and hereby may be learnt to spell all Superscriptions writ on Letters.

Alphabetically Digested.

With the Rates of Domestick and Foreign Letters; and a List lately collected, of all the Stage Coaches, Waggon and Carriers, where they Inn at in London, and Days they go out of Town.

Peculiarly adapted for Trade and Business; and therefore very necessary for all Gentlemen, Ladies, Merchants, Shopkeepers, Countrey Chapmen, and others.

Edm'd Richard Bunting Author.

TO THE READER.

*T*is evidently known to many that are yet living, that what was London before the dreadful Conflagration, which in the Year 1666 laid it in Ashes, and made it as a Mongibel or Heap of Rubbish, is now like another City; the Churches, Halls, Houses.

and the very Situation of the Streets being so much alter'd from what they were at first; besides, within the Memory of younger People, there have been such additional Buildings made about the Cities of London and Westminster, and Borough of Southwark within these 20 years, which will for largeness exceed Bristol, or any other City in England.

Therefore as there has not yet been any true Description given of London, which is the Metropolis of Great-Britain, the most flourishing City in Europe, and chiefest Emporium or Town of Trade in the whole World, we here present you with an exact Account of all the Streets, Lanes, Courts, Allies, Squares, and other Places within its Walls, and Suburbs about it, as also of Westminster and Southwark, with their Liberties, from Mill-bank at Westminster to Lime house-hole on the North Side of the Thames; and from King's Arms Stairs near Lambeth, to West Lane by Rotherhith, commonly call'd Redriff, on the South side of the same River.

All this is done in an Alphabetical Order, insomuch that a meer Stranger may easily find the Place he is bound to, without the Assistance of a Guide; and it may not only prevent the Mischriage of Goods or Parcels by Porters and others, but also the Miscalriage of Letters, which oftentimes prove a great Detriment to the Writer, as well as to the Person wrote to; and this happens too often by false Spelling, therefore this small Piece may serve for a Spelling-Book, and shew you how to write your Directions true to any Part whatever in or about London. Westminster or Southwar'. But yet let a Man or Woman spell or write ever so well, Letters may miscarry too; for suppose you should write a Letter in the Country to a Friend living in Queen-street, at Westminster, and on the Superscription put London; how should the Postman know whether you mean Queen street in Cheapside, Queenstreet in Drury lane, Queenstreet in Holbourn, Queen-street in Spittlehelds, or Queen-street in Southwark? For many Places bear one and the same Name; therefore to prevent such Mistakes for the future, we herein shew in what Part any Place is situated, by the Letters, L. S. W. signifying London, Southwark, and Westminster.

L

TO THE READER.

Moreover to make this Pocket Companion more useful for Trade or any other Business, herein is inserted the Rates of Domestick and Foreign Letters, and a List (lately taken) of all the Inns to which the Stage Coaches, Wagons, and Carriers come, with the Days they set out of Town, very necessary for all Gentlemen, Ladies, Merchants, Tradesmen, Country People, and others, so if it finds a favourable Acceptance among my Countrymen, 'tis all the Author expects for his two Months Perambulations, to make a Review of this populous ity, which hath not less than 25 miles in Circumference.
